A vigorous grower, the Summer Red shines with regal stature in the landscape. Outstanding burgundy red foliage emerges in spring and gives way to a dark purplish green in the summer. Its fall display is truly impressive as the older leaves turn yellow, while the younger ones become orange or purple. Its furrowed silver bark and brick red branches add an dimension to the already stunning tree.

This towering tree provides a rounded canopy that gives excellent shade in the summer. Its high canopy level makes it an excellent spot to relax under on lazy summer days. Its low maintenance, high adaptability and breathtaking display make this an excellent choice for any landscape.
