

Anemone

The Facts

Height: .5 - 1.5'
Spread: 1 - 2'
Sun: Morning sun
Water: Medium
Soil: Well drained
Growth Rate: Fast

Anemone are beautiful to behold. They're soft look only masks their hardy nature. These perennials have a wide zone range and are adaptable to many regions. Though this may be, filtered sunlight or full shade is best for these beauties. Spread by runners underground, these make fine additions to large areas of shade or woodland gardens. They're bright colors are perfect to pop in shaded areas. These plants stay smaller in stature and are perfect in front of ferns or hostas that reach of their heads.

Anemone varieties, like with any perennial, display blooms at different points in the seasons. It is best to stagger them with other varieties so bloom times overlap, giving you a continuous flow of flower production.